Outdoor Volunteer Leader Training Opportunities from OSI

VOC offers a wide variety of training opportunities through our Outdoor Stewardship Institute (OSI). OSI training courses are a great way for VOC volunteers as well as volunteers/staff from other agencies to develop both technical and leadership skills. OSI courses are open to the public. OSI curriculum is also utilized by other partner agencies in their own trainings.

Please note that training is not necessary to volunteer on a VOC project. Trained leaders will instruct volunteers regarding tools and techniques the day of the project.

OSI Training Courses

Following are the courses we typically offer each year:

- Crew Leadership for Trails
- Rock Skills
- Basic Trail Skills
- Introduction to Trail Design
- Crew Leadership for Ecological Restoration
- Introduction to Ecological Restoration Skills
- Working with Youth
- Custom courses for specific agencies and groups

2010 OSI Training Schedule

All of our 2010 training courses have been completed. Please check back in February 2011 for next year's list of courses. If you would like to be added to our training mailing list, please send an email to Fletcher@voc.org.
