VOLUNTEERS FOR OUTDOOR COLORADO

Volunteers for Outdoor Colorado (VOC) is an extensive background working with nonprofit organizations to help people better understand each other.

Every year, resident Marco Hamilton is the volunteer coordinator for the program, which connects volunteers with more than 1,200 organizations. VOC is dedicated to increasing the number of people who volunteer for outdoor.colorado.gov. Your Mountain Connection donates $250 every month to local nonprofit organizations featured on this page through the program.

VOC PROGRAMS:

- Education: VOC offers a variety of educational programs, including workshops and training sessions for volunteers and outdoor leaders.
- Conservation: VOC supports conservation efforts through internships, restoration projects, and other volunteer opportunities.
- Recreation: VOC promotes outdoor recreation through programs that encourage people to get outside and enjoy the natural environment.

VOC's mission is to increase the number of volunteers for outdoor organizations and to promote the benefits of volunteering for personal and community growth.

In its 25th year, VOC continues to be a valuable resource for outdoor organizations, volunteers, and the community at large.
